Single-family homes related business (Open House Development)

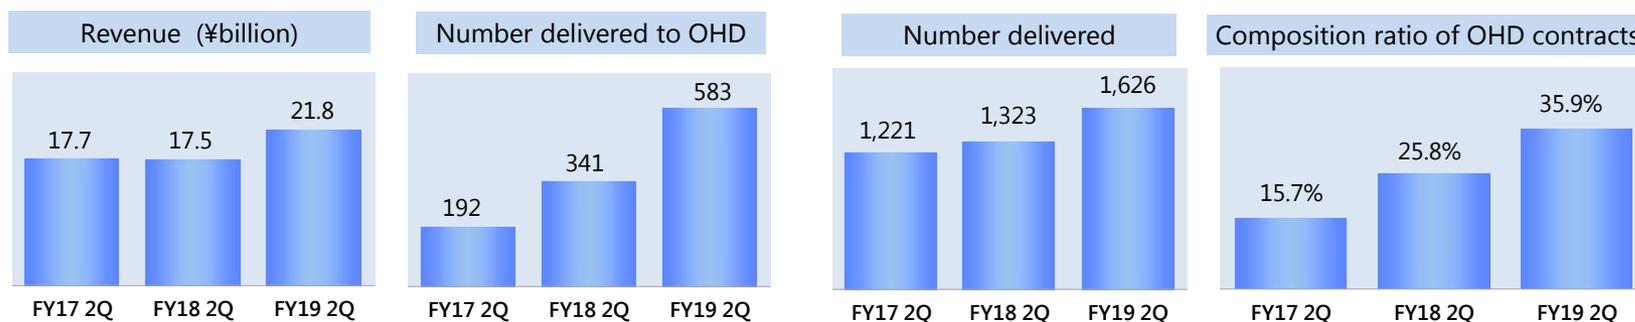

- ☑ A decline in gross profit margin was due to gross margin mix resulting from increased number of built-for-sale houses and higher purchase prices of land.
- ☑ Profit ratio on a sales contract basis has been on a uptrend, attributed to the specification of purchase criteria and greater accuracy in sales plans. Profit ratio on a sales settlement basis is expected to improve in the second half of the fiscal term.

Outline of performance

	FY2019 2Q (18/10-19/3)
Revenue (¥million)	47,494
Gross profit (¥million)	5,451
Gross profit margin	11.5%

Number of Sales	1,146
*contract basis
Number of brokerage	196
*contract basis	(6 at the same period last year)

Special factors in gross profit margin

1. Evaluation of market value of inventories

When consolidating at the end of the previous fiscal year, contracted inventories were valued at market value according to sales value, and the amount equivalent to the gain on valuation (¥850 million) was recorded under net assets and not under gross profit.

2. Disposal of long-term inventories

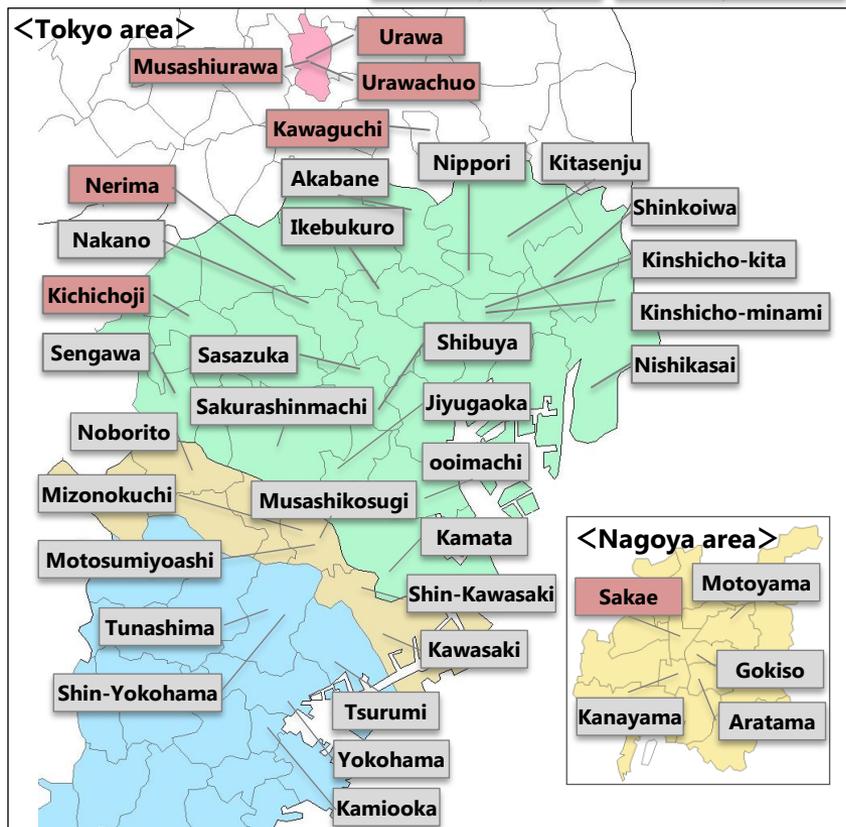

Long-term inventories (those open for contracts, with over 60 days after completion of construction) were disposed of in line with the policy aimed at improving asset efficiency. As a result, gross profit margin temporarily declined.
